PREFACE.

The collection of marriage records is not an entirely new venture in local history, but it has been done in so few cases that we are obliged to refer this publication as a new departure in the preservation of local history and genealogy. This work is so different from any other published that we feel that we have made an innovation in this matter. We know of no other county in the State of Pennsylvania that has such a record published. We deem the result of this collection of vast moment in coming years. How much would a list solemnized a hundred years ago be appreciated now? Time passes and if no one makes a record of passing events and nothing or very little is preserved, much is missed by future generations. The value of this book will increase as time rolls on and it will be appreciated more as the years roll by.

The miscellaneous list of marriages from 1868 to Oct. 1, 1885 was taken from the files of the Middleburg POST and as it is not at all likely that all marriages were reported to this publication during that period, the list cannot be guaranteed to be complete. In fact we know that it is not complete for that time. From Oct. 1, 1885, the time that the new marriage license law went into effect, and hence is correct and complete, except in cases where persons went outside of the county to get their licenses. The publication of these marriages began in March 1898 in the columns of the Middleburg POST. About three colums were printed in each issue of the POST so that about four pages of this book were printed each week. In that way little by little this long list of marriages was completed.

Having compiled the miscellaneous list of marriages, we secured the marriage records of Rev. Adolf B. Casper, Rev. John P. Shindel, Jr., and Rev. C. G. Erlenmyer who served long and faithfully various peoples and congregations in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. We were unable to get authentic lists of earlier years than those represented in this book, a feature we should have been only too glad to include in this publication.

We have exercised every care and caution to secure accuracy in every detail both as to dates and names, and yet we have discovered that some slight though unimportant errors have crept in. They are not vital, but we regret their presence. On page 5 of this book, it will be observed that the date 1888 should be 1899. A few other slight typographical errors have occurred, but they are of small moment, and we trust they will be pardoned. After having printed the first 48 pages, we discovered that it would be a great convenience to print at the top of each page the year in which the marriages on that page took place. Beginning with page 49, we carried into effect this new idea and also had the beginning of each year in the context printed in larger and blacker type, thereby rendering it far more serviceable to those wishing a book with a more ready reference.

With reference to the index, we would say that we should have preferred to index each and every name separtely, but to do that would have required an addition to this volume of almost as much as the present size of the book. Therefore we have indexed the volume in surnames. If you wish to look up a particular name, you will find in the index the number of the pages upon which you will find the names. Some names are not so numerous and hence they may appear but once, but there are many names that appear even hundreds of times. The index, though not as complete as we should have liked to have it, is quite a convenience in discovering names that are desired.

The book contains from 7000 to 7500 marriages or a total of 15,000 names. This is almost as many names as there are people now living in Snyder county. The owner of this book will find it a most valuable companion to secure data that is desired almost every day. To the genealogist or the local historian, the book is an indispeneable article. We appreciate the fact that the toil, labor and expense required to get out the book will never be repaid, but the book will serve a useful purpose and we trust will be a source of gratification to all who may secure one of them. We can not close this preface without expressing our hope that this publication will bring out many more of a similar character. The day will come when they will be sought after with the keenest anxiety. Respectfully Submitted,

Geo. W. Wagenseller
